

CECO Environmental Announces $7 Million in New Orders Significant Electrostatic Precipitator Rebuild Order Received

PRNewswire-FirstCall

CINCINNATI

CECO Environmental Corp. , a leading provider of air pollution control and industrial ventilation systems, announced today that it has received five new orders totaling approximately $7 million.

Rick Blum, President and Chief Operating Officer, stated, "These orders were received by our CECOaire, Efoxx, and Fisher-Klosterman subsidiaries. Fisher-Klosterman received three of the orders. They were received by its Louisville, Classifier, and APC divisions. The orders came from the power industry, the food industry, and the mining industry."

Phillip DeZwirek, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "The most significant order was received by our APC group at Buell which is a division of Fisher-Klosterman, our newest acquisition. This order involves the rebuilding of an electrostatic precipitator in a power plant owned by a major utility. Our people at Buell feel that there are significant opportunities for more such work in the future."
