CECO Environmental Secures Record Order Exceeding $135 Million

December 15, 2025

Full Year 2025 Bookings Expected to Surpass $1 Billion

ADDISON, Texas, Dec. 15, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- CECO Environmental Corp. (Nasdaq: CECO) ("CECO" or the "Company"), a leading environmentally focused, diversified industrial company whose solutions protect people, the environment, and industrial equipment, announced today it has booked its largest ever order exceeding $135 million. The order includes a comprehensive emissions management solution designed to deliver ultra-low emissions and acoustic and thermal performance, meeting or exceeding stringent environmental and community standards for a large-scale Texas-based natural gas power generation facility supporting data center expansion. With this milestone, CECO expects full-year 2025 bookings to surpass $1 billion, driving record backlog levels approaching or exceeding $800 million.

Todd Gleason, CECO's Chief Executive Officer commented, “We continue to build upon our multi-year track record of delivering record growth as our investments to sustain high-performance results are yielding strong returns. The tremendous activity in the energy transition and power generation sector is certainly exciting, and we are also well positioned to continue to benefit from strong orders and a growing pipeline in semiconductor production, natural gas infrastructure expansions, industrial reshoring and electrification, and our emerging leadership position in international industrial water treatment solution markets.”

“We will meet with investors at conferences in December and in early 2026, and we wanted to provide an update on our record booking as well as trends in our most active markets. Additionally, our sales pipeline – which tracks opportunities expected to materialize in the next 18-to-24 months – continues to grow and is expected to eclipse $6 billion by the end of 2025. Our growth investments and dedicated associates continue to position CECO for ongoing, sustainable high performance,” Gleason added.

CECO Environmental Recognized by Newsweek and Forbes

“I am proud to share that CECO was recently included in Newsweek’s America’s Greatest Companies 2025 list, our first time being recognized in this independent evaluation. And, for the third consecutive year, we are recognized by Forbes in their 2026 America’s Most Successful Small-Cap Companies. These honors reflect our incredible teams and their commitment to delivering world-class solutions for our customers and generating sustainable growth. We are pleased to be recognized along with other prestigious, high-performance companies,” Gleason concluded.
